engineer appointed by county commissioners

One of the most surprising moves ever seen here for several years was declared in the offices of county engineer Sadler Partridge, chairman of the county commissioners. He was immediately appointed to the position by the commissioners and the county engineer"

The post of county engineer was vacated when Sadler Partridge resigned to accept a position with another county. He was succeeded by an engineer from the neighboring county. Sadler Partridge had been with the county for several years and had built a reputation as a knowledgeable and effective engineer.

His appointment was unexpected and created a stir among the citizens of the county. The news was met with a mix of reactions, ranging from surprise to support. Sadler Partridge was praised for his dedication to the job and his contributions to the county.

In the meantime, the county commissioner's office was temporarily reorganized to handle the increased workload. A temporary engineer was appointed to fill the gap until Sadler Partridge could return to work.

The move also had implications for county politics. Sadler Partridge had been a strong supporter of the county commissioner and had often aligned with his views. The appointment of a new engineer could shift the balance of power within the county's administration.

The county commissioners were praised for their quick decision, which was seen as an act of leadership and foresight.

HISTORY RECAPTURED—Past week-end during an open house for the affair. Here is a scene that was done and other articles of the day.

Sanitarian Will Testify in Case

Pryor Link, county sanitarian, has been subpoenaed to appear before the Ohio Liquor Control Board at Columbus Thursday, Sept. 2, to testify in the case of Donald Moore, operator of a cafe and tourist cabin at Diederich.

Moore was cited several weeks ago by Stanley Delhart, enforcement agent, on alleged violation of liquor regulations. At the same time, Link issued a warning to Moore on county health regulations. The sanitarian and Delhart made a joint inspection of Moore's place.